

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS OF SUCCESS

Reflecting the transformational nature of the enterprise technology world which it serves, this year's 10th edition of Angel Business Communications' premier IT awards has a new name.

The SVC Awards have become... the SDC Awards!

10 years ago, SVC stood for Storage, Virtualisation and Channel – and the SVC Awards focused on these important pillars of the overall IT industry. Fast forward to 2019, and virtualisation has given way to software-defined, which, in turn, has become an important sub-set of digital transformation. Storage remains important, and the Cloud has emerged as a major new approach to the creation and supply of IT products and services. Hence the decision to change one small letter in our awards; but, in doing so, we believe that we've created a set of awards that are of much bigger significance to the IT industry.

The SDC (Storage, Digitalisation + Cloud) Awards – the new name for Angel Business Communications' IT awards are now firmly focused on recognising and rewarding success in the products and services that are the foundation for digital transformation!

Should your nomination be successful and reach the shortlist ALL material submitted will appear on the website for the public vote. Please do not include confidential information in your submission.
